Tahoe Keys Property Owners Association (TKPOA) Members and their guests play an important role in protecting the health of Lake Tahoe. Boat sewage, graywater, cleaning products, spilled fuel and oil, trash and aquatic invasive species are all potential sources of pollution. Government alone cannot protect California's environment and Lake Tahoe. Every boater must take responsibility for pollution prevention and try to minimize the environmental and public health impacts from boating activities.

The following are the reporting procedures from the CalOES - California Governor's Office of Emergency Services – California Hazardous Material Spill/Release Notification Guidance [2014]:
